

Hello from your Providence Health Coaching team

Welcome to Providence Health Plan! It's nice to meet you.

Ensuring the well-being of the community means everything — to all of us. Your health coaching team is here to help you accomplish your goals and build a relationship grounded in trust and support.

We're excited to introduce you to your Health Engagement Coordinator, Melissa Sención.

I've been in my current role with Providence since: December 2021

I have a passion for healthcare because: I believe health and wellness require a whole-person approach, taking into consideration social, mental, financial, and physical well-being. I understand that life is complex and everyone benefits from a multi-faceted support system, including a family member, friend, provider, and/or health coach. I choose to be part of a support system that acknowledges the whole-person and motivates them to make their own unique health decisions.

My education/background is: I have worked in public health and community health for 10+ years. I hold a master's degree in Exercise Science from CSU Northridge. In college I was a Division I Water Polo Athlete and continued playing in master's leagues afterward. In 2016 I received my Certified Worksite Wellness Specialist certification through the National Wellness Institute.

I love my job, but here's a bit more about me.

If it's the weekend: I'm slow to wake up, grateful for a hot cup of coffee and at a nearby park, hike, or lake by mid-morning with my family and Rottie.

Fun fact about me: I love exploring different cultures by way of food and drink. Thanks for the opportunity to partner with you. I look forward to getting to know you better, supporting your goals, and helping the community discover True Health together.

Hi there, I'm
Melissa Sención,
Health Engagement Coordinator

For more than 160 years, Providence has aligned under a common purpose: to bring True Health to each and every member of the community.

True Health is a commitment to caring for the whole self: mind, body, and spirit. The concept is rooted in the idea that the healthier each of us are, the healthier we all are.

We all deserve True Health.
